NO SURE THING.

An intelligent Southerner recently said that the day had come when the national Democratic party can no longer count on the solid support of the Southern branch of the party. In fact, it is not going too far to say that already they form two separate and distinct parties, who have heretofore, from motives of self-interest (or supposed interest) acted together more as allies than as a unit.

It has been suggested to the Southern Democracy to draw off from both parties and form a separate third party, thus holding the balance of power, not with the expectation of party ascendancy, but to hold itself ready to co-operate with either party as policy may on the particular occasion direct. And whether or not this idea crystallizes into form by the next national election, it is very certain that the Southern vote will, in a very large measure, hold itself independent of the direction of the national party. There are many reasons why it cannot consent longer to follow blindly the dictates of the national party.

These reasons may be summarized somewhat in this way: (1) There are no issues of principles between the parties. (2) The South is unanimous for free trade, let it come from what direction it may. (3) It is setting out on a career of unprecedented prosperity; consequently it wants quiet, stability, and a maintenance of the present financial policy of the Government. (4) But above all this it feels that the tendency of the national Democratic party is not in the direction of its sympathy or judgement. It recognizes the fact that there is yet another "irrepressible conflict" brooding in this country, which some have termed—although improperly—a contest between capital and labor, but more properly between intelligence and ignorance, and that in such a contest its interest must lead to an alliance with that party which vigorously repudiates the propaganda of the Communist, the nihilist, and the modern demagogue. The South realizes the necessity of maintaining her State governments in the hands of the intelligent whites, but in national matters there is little doubt that she will in the near future inaugurate a policy totally unbiased by past affiliations.

FRANCE'S IMPERIAL POLICY

France is pursuing "its imperial policy" as D'Irasi called it, near home as well as in distant countries, and is negotiating with the prince of Monaco for the purchase of that little territory of ill-repute. The prince is willing to sell for 10,000,000 francs, but with a tender feeling for the institution that has hitherto paid all his state expenses he wants to stipulate that France shall recognize the gaming tables concession till 1910. France seems to be negotiating upon this basis, though it is hard to believe that she will at last grant the right.

The Omaha Bee says: From its very position, almost surrounded by French soil, France has a vital interest in the suppression of this promoter of suffering and evil doing, and she might well follow Germany in promptly shutting up the gambling resorts and refusing compensation for unexpired leases. It is thought the English, German and Italian Governments would support France in such an action, even if she does not buy Monaco. That public opinion throughout Europe condemns this institution seems clear, and it is said to have made itself felt so sharply, even in Monaco itself, that property is decreasing in value all along the Riviera so rapidly that many have been ruined.

Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia will hold state elections on Nov. 6, and Ohio and Iowa on Nov. 8.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

The King and Queen of Spain at Home.
MADRID, August 10.

The King and Queen of Spain returned to Madrid this afternoon from Tagragra, their presence in the capital being considered necessary, in view of the unsettled state of the Kingdom. They were received at the station by the Cabinet Ministers, many Senators and Deputies, and officers of all grades. Both inside and outside of the station there were large crowds of people, who cheered the King and Queen enthusiastically. This dispenses of the London stock market rumor that the King had been shot. The Ministerial papers say that a majority of the rebels fled on the approach of the loyal troops.

A Strike Which Was Not Ordered

PITTSBURGH, August 11.

The strike by the Pan-Handle railroad telegraph operators, inaugurated yesterday afternoon, is over, all the operators who left their instruments having returned to work, the company reinstating them with the understanding that they behave themselves. The officials of the Brotherhood pronounce the telegram ordering the Pan-Handle operators out, bogus. The Fort Wayne telegraphers are still working, and those in a position to know say that a strike will not be ordered. Fifteen Eastern wires of the Western Union were cut last night, and several more rendered useless by connecting them with fine wire.

A Soldiers' Reunion.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., August 10.

The exercises of a reunion took place on the Wilson Creek battle ground to-day. From 15,000 to 20,000 people were present. Lieutenant Governor Campbell, Acting Governor of Missouri, delivered the welcome speech. Responses were made by Governor Berry of Arkansas and Col. M. Merritt of Iowa and others. Throughout the reunion, a most cordial feeling existed between the old Union and Confederate soldiers. The men have camped together, as if there never had been any differences between them.

Another Competitor.

OMAHA, Aug. 10.

This morning there arrived in Omaha from St. Louis, General Denereaux, Amos Fillingham, assistant to Vanderbilt, John R. Duff of Boston, Judge R. P. Daney of Cleveland and T. P. Burrows of St. Louis to arrange for terminal facilities and entry to Omaha of the new railroad to be built from St. Louis by the Vanderbilt interest. Tillingham says that the Vanderbilt system has got to have its share of Western business hereafter or there will be war. There's got to be more than one hole in the skimmer.

The Banks Open.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 10.

At five minutes before 3 o'clock the doors of the First National Bank were opened, and W. H. English appeared and invited depositors to come in and get their money. The crowd outside rushed in, but were checked by the police, and ladies were given the preference. The Bank kept open for an hour or more after closing time, and all checks presented were promptly cashed. But few of the larger depositors drew their money.

He Cannot be Found.

WASHINGTON, August 11.

The War Department is just now puzzled how to dismiss Major Nickerson from the army. Charges have been preferred against him as a deserter, but he complies with the law by reporting his address to the Department at regular intervals, but when the Department looks for him at his known address, it finds he has flown, and left no trace behind him. The case will be reported to Congress for settlement.

Rich Hill Oil.

RICH HILL, Mo., August 11.

The oil excitement is unabated and land is being bought at fabulous prices. Thousands of acres are being leased and options taken for thousands more. Many large and small tracts have been purchased at from $50 to $100 an acre. Gas wells are being found and more oil wells. Oil rock abounds over considerable territory.

Quick Time on a Bicycle.

MOULT WASHINGTON, August 11.

C. E. Heath of Chickopee, rode down Mt. Washington this morning from the Summit House to the Glen House on a bicycle; 13 miles in 55 minutes. The previous record on a bicycle over the same road was one hour and 55 minutes.

A Fatal Collision.

BALTIMORE, August 10.

The steamer Commodore Lawrence, from Havana, when off Point Lookout, early this morning, collided with the schooner Sarah Lavinia. The latter immediately sank, carrying down the wife and two children of Captain Anderson, and Joseph Lowell, cook.

An explorer arrived at Duluth reports smallpox very bad among the Indians in the interior of Alaska.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Riots in Europe and Asia.
VIENNA, August 11.

Three hundred workmen attempted to hold a demonstration before the office of the Director of the Police at Vienna, last evening, because of the seizure of the workmen's newspaper. The mob was dispersed by a large body of police with drawn swords. Many arrests were made and order finally restored.

ALEXANDRIA, August 11.

A riot broke out in the Labat quarter last night in consequence of a report that English doctors were poisoning natives. The mob attempted to destroy the ambulances, crying "Death to Christians!" The outbreak was easily quelled by British troops.

BARCELONA, Spain, Aug. 11.

A mob of workmen in the suburbs of Barcelona cheered for the Republic and caused the closing of factories. They have gone in the direction of Valles and Bruch. Two regiments are pursuing.

It is reported that the garrisons at Valencia and Lerida have revolted. The former, it is said, are fraternizing with the people.

A fresh collision has occurred between the troops and populace at Ekaterinoslav and 100 people killed.

PARIS, August 11.

The Spanish ambassador here has complained to the French Minister of Foreign Affairs that France does not sufficiently discountenance the revolts in Spain.

More Headcounts.

LONDON, August 11.

A meeting in favor of State-aided emigration was held at the Mansion House to-night, the Earl of Shaftsbury presiding. A resolution was offered providing for sending 200,000 persons to Canada and other British colonies, and for securing them farms in their new homes. Money for the purchase of land will be advanced by the State, which is to take mortgages on the farms as security for payment. The resolution was supported by the Archbishop of Canterbury and adopted. It is proposed to send 10,000 families to Canada in the spring.

Statement Confirmed.

BERLIN, August 10.

A brother of Prof. Pulitz who killed himself, having drawn a death lot in a so-called American duel, has another note confirming the statement of the deceased. The professor left letters showing that the duel grew out of a dispute with a Jewish lawyer on the Jewish question.

Very Likely.

LONDON, Aug. 11.

It is said that the attention of the United States Minister has been called to the fact that America is furnishing China with arms and ammunition which, it is believed are destined for Tonquin. The correspondent adds: The American legation refused to answer questions in regard to the subject.

Not the Same.

ALEXANDRIA, August 11.

The English doctors now here, who have had experience in India in cholera during the epidemic, say it is of an entirely different character from the Asiatic cholera.

Personally Directing.

LONDON, August 11.

A dispatch from Paris asserts that Puzosorilla is in Spain, where he is personally directing the risings in that country, which, it is declared, are spreading.

An Old Scheme.

LONDON, August 11.

A correspondent says the outbreak in Spain is the result of the scheme which Panzorilla has been planning for the last 32 years.

Hope They May

The Sierra Valley Leader learns from reliable authority that the great iron mine near Mohawk valley is about to pass into the hands of a syndicate of Boston capitalists, who propose to proceed to develop it. It is undoubtedly the largest body of iron ore on this coast and is inexhaustible, and further than that, the quality is better than any ore in the United States, being the same as that from which the celebrated Russian and Swedish iron is made. It has been lying idle because there has been no means of transporting its products, but now a railroad is proposed from some near point on the Central Pacific, to run through the Sierra valley, tapping its agricultural resources and the immense tracts of timber in the vicinity, and thence into Mohawk valley to the mine. A surveying party may be set to work this fall making the preliminary surveys, and it is thought that within two years the mine will be turning out its products to the world. [A Boston party have been figuring for three years on this, and were supposed to be figured out, but this may be a new start.—ED. GAZETTE.]

An Insane Man Killed by an Engine. An insane man was killed by a light engine on the Oregon Short Line, at McCammon Junction, Wednesday morning, says the Ogden Pilot. The engineer and fireman did not know that they had run over him until they discovered blood on the pilot of the engine next morning. Some time after the fatal occurrence Conductor Shields, of the Utah and Northern, found the remains of the poor unfortunate just in time to save them from being run over a second time. A letter was found in one of the poor fellow's pockets which gave his mother's name, to whom word was sent at once.

Spontaneous Combustion. The railroad company's coal pile, say the Winnemucca Silver State, which contains a thousand or more tons, caught fire yesterday from spontaneous combustion. Fires of this character are of common occurrence in hot weather. They originate generally near the bottom of the heap, and an opening has to be made down to the fire to put them out, as the heat causes the coal and forms a covering that is almost impervious to water over the fire.

Gratefully Acknowledged. Mother Dolores desires to express sincere thanks to the kind friends who, without her knowledge, had the Convent buggy and harness put in safe and nice repair. Also to the unknown friend in Reno who, on Monday morning, July 24, donated $50 to the Convent.

ONE WHERE ARE THEY?

The Pioneers of the Old Lode Scattered or Dead.

The first locators of the Comstock lode seem to have but little interest in it now, and they are scattered far and near. Alva Gould, who staked the party of prospectors that discovered silver in Gold Hill in 1859, lives in Reno and runs a fruit wagon around through the ranches in the valley. Abe C. Curry is dead. A. G. White, of the Murphy and White, is in the sheep business. He lived some years at Teocoma, Nevada, but moved north last year. John Murphy made a raise and died in San Francisco. R. D. Sides is at work on Theodore Winters' ranch in Washoe valley. John D. Winters is in California. He was in Reno a couple of weeks ago. Joe Kirby is in Virginia City. Henry B. Comstock suicided in Boise City in 1888. Emanuel Penrod is in Elko county mining. Pete Riley and Pat McLaughlin are dead. John Bishop has been in Reno inside of a month. He is not rich. H. B. Camp is in New Mexico. James Corey is working a mine on American Flat. Joseph Webb is dead. E. Belcher is in the tile business in Evanston, Wyoming. Abernethy is at Suleman and Baldwin in Napa on a farm. Castelli froze to death at Meadow Lake. J. C. Osburn is dead and Joseph Rogers shot himself in Virginia. Sandy Bowers is buried on the hillside back of the Bowers Mansion in Washoe valley and his wife is telling fortunes. Len. C. Savage has been dead some years and his widow is a respected citizen of Reno. Norcross is foreman of a planing mill in San Francisco. James Finney, "Old Virginny," is dead. Not one of the old boys have a cent's interest in the Comstock and few of them much property of any kind.

SUSANVILLE ITEMS

Interesting Notes from our Northern Neighbor.

The sick are all improving. No deaths to chronicle this week, and no new cases.

The Advocate is publishing a series of articles on the resources of Lassen county by E. R. Dodge.

Miss Josie Barnett, who has been on an extended visit to Miss Fannie Peyser of this place, left for her home in Reno yesterday morning.

A wood chopper living near town has been at work digging in the hard cement ground for (as his cranky head tells him) a supposed treasure. He has excavated quite a large hole to the depth of some 12 or 15 feet.

E. G. Woodstock killed a wild cat on his ranch near the river, Monday, that weighed 40 pounds. Wild cats have been numerous during the past year, and have made frequent raids on the henroosts of the ranchers along Susan river.

C. McDermid last Tuesday a few miles west of town killed four rattlesnakes. The reptiles were near a hollow stump which seemed to be their home, and the largest snake measured four feet in length, six inches in circumference, and had nine rattles and a button.

A Righteous Law

The following humane and reasonable law is on the statute books of the United States: "No railroad company within the United States, whose road forms any part of a line of road over which cattle, sheep, swine, or other animals are conveyed from one State to another, or the owners or masters of steam, sailing, or other vessels carrying or transporting cattle, sheep, swine, or other animals from one State to another, shall confine the same in cars, boats, or vessels of any description, for a longer period than twenty-eight consecutive hours, without unloading the same for rest, water and feeding for a period of at least five consecutive hours, unless prevented from so unloading by storm or other accidental causes. In estimating such confinement, the time during which the animals have been confined without such rest or connecting roads from which they are relieved shall be included, if being the intent of this section to prohibit their continuous confinement beyond the period of twenty-eight hours, except upon contingencies hereinbefore stated."

The Present Terminus

The track of the Carson and Colorado railroad is now finished and regular trains are running to Hawley, says the Walker Lake Bulletin. Depot buildings, turning-tables, water-tanks and engine-house have been finished. Hawley Station is one of the most beautiful locations on the line of the railroad. It is situated on the eastern shore of Owens Lake, in the center of splendid meadow lands. From this point, the most beautiful locations on the line of the railroad. The highest peaks of the Sierra Nevada are visible. Mount Whitney, about forty miles to the northwest, is in plain view, and is a spectacle worth a trip over the road.

They Like to See the Monkeys. The Carson Index says that not less than 300 Indians attended the circus at that place, paying the regular admission price. The natives have an uncontrollable desire to see strange animals.

A FRAUD

Pass Him Around—Keep Him Going.

The Carsonites say that L. Van Fruman, who represents himself as a correspondent of the New York Staats Zeitung, the Chicago Union and other papers is a bilk. The Appeal says he is now following in the wake of Callender's minstrels. He contracted a stable debt in Carson, which he failed to pay, and the keeper of the stable made him get off the cars, on which he was about to achieve a ride, and walk out of town. It was telegraphed from Sacramento that "L. Van Fruman" would arrive here on a certain day, and he came. Nobody knew who L. Van Fruman was till he came and showed his card. He disowned the dispatch. He said it was doubtless sent by some of his Sacramento admirers. They are probably of a piece with his Carson admirers; indeed, he must have made quite a "mess" in Carson. That was probably because he made himself conspicuous by driving the members of Callender's minstrels about the town.

Justice's Court

ASTRIDE OR ASIDE

How Should a Lady Sit on a Horse?

The above subject having created considerable discussion in the English newspapers, the Lancet now takes it up, and concludes that it would be as well to leave the determination of the question to those whom it principally concerns. As a matter of fact, although it may not appear to be the case, the writer continues, the seat which a woman enjoys on a side-saddle is fully as secure, and not nearly so irksome, as that which a man has to maintain, unless he simply balances himself and does not gripe the sides of his horse either with the knee or the side of the leg. It is curious to note the different ways in which the legs of men who pass much time in the saddle are affected. Riding with a straight leg and a long stirrup almost invariably produces what are called "knocked knees." Nearly all the mounted soldiers of the British army suffer from this deformity, as any one who will take the trouble to notice the men of the Life Guards and Blues walking may satisfy himself. On the other hand, riding with short stirrups produces bowed legs. Jockeys, groomers and most hunting men who ride very frequently are more or less bow-legged. The long stirrup rider grips his horse with his knee, while the short stirrup rider grips him with the inner side of the leg below the knee. This difference of action explains the difference of result. No deformity necessarily follows the use of the side-saddle if the precaution be taken with growing girls to change sides on alternate days, riding on the left side one day and on the right on the next. The purpose of this change is to counteract the tendency to lean over to the side opposite to that on which the leg is swung.

Closed Up

The new road leading from Craine's ranch to Steamboat Springs has been fenced up by Laramie. It seems that he gave the county a right of way across his ranch about a year ago, and the Commissioners declared it a county road. This was done on the strength of a petition largely signed by the farmers in that section. At the last meeting of the Board Laramie appeared and asked that the county allow him something for his land. This the Board refused to do, hence the trouble. Those who visit Steamboat will now be obliged to go round the old county road.

Good Scores

Superintendent Crawford on Wednesday afternoon made the splendid score of 93 points—46 at the 200-yard range and 47 at the 500-yard range.

At Carson on Tuesday, Saffell of the Carson Guard made 94 points at both ranges—49 out of a possible 50 at the 200-yard range, and 45 at the 500-yard.

If the Nevada team can produce many of the above, there is but little doubt about the result of the coming match.

Good Grain

E. J. W. of Beck with sends in a small sample of wheat raised without irrigation. It is very handsome grain, with a healthy stalk, good heavy head and well rounded kernel. He says the grasshoppers are all dead, and harvest is in full blast. The grain crop on the west side of the valley is fully as good as usual, notwithstanding they missed the usual June showers, which created some alarm.

A Furnace Accident

The Eureka Leader of the 9th instant says: At 9:30 o'clock today Joe Gordillo, a slaggman, in dumping a slag on the catch failed to work, and he lost his balance and fell beneath the car, which, by its greater weight, forced him to the ground and crushed his hip bone.

A Troublesome Lamp

A coal oil lamp on the Cooke corner last evening gave considerable trouble by taking fire inside, and had to be smothered with a sack. It looked a little dangerous for a few minutes.
